P. J. Flaherty Is Taken By Death At Miami, Fla.

Death Comes Suddenly On Thursday Afternoon At Florida Hospital

NEW CASTLE LOSES INDUSTRIAL LEADER

Patrick J. Flaherty, 339 Berger Place, chairman of the board of directors of the Johnson Bronze company, died suddenly in the Alton Road hospital, Miami Beach, Fla., Thursday afternoon, February 12, at 4 o'clock. Death followed the rupture of a blood vessel two days ago.

The announcement of his death came as a shock to the entire city. When he left here some weeks ago for his winter home on Palm Island, Fla., he appeared to be in good health. On Monday he complained of feeling ill and on Tuesday was removed to the hospital. Despite every medical attention possible, he died Thursday afternoon.

Positive Force
His death removes a positive force in New Castle. Successful in his own business he lent his genius to every worthwhile civic activity here. More than one organization in New Castle owes its present sound financial structure to his ability and his willingness to aid.

Mr. Flaherty was born in Ireland. (Continued on Page Two)

Pa Newc Observes

The moderation in the weather of Thursday brought out a few garden hoses by local residents who used them to wash away the accumulation of dirt from their sidewalks.

Dear Sir: While we were trying to keep warm in our house this last Monday morning, February 9, a big robin was chirping for all it was worth in a tree out front. Mrs. E. A. Anderson, 728 Cleveland avenue.

Dear Pa Newc: Speaking of sleighs, snow and ashes, the ashing crews have done such an excellent job of ashing the highways that from what I've seen of sleighs down near Ellwood City, one must have been stranded by the ashing crew. B. J. McKim, New Castle.

Greasy sidewalks and equally greasy streets brought many a careful pedestrian down to the pavement early this morning, much to his dismay. Rain which fell during the night froze leaving a thin coating of ice in almost all section of the city. Side streets were particularly dangerous, calling for extreme caution by pedestrians and motorists alike.

Aid To Europe To Be Contingent Upon Individual Nations

By WILLIAM UMSTEAD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—European nations received blunt notice from Congress today that American aid under the Marshall Plan will depend primarily on the extent of their own cooperation in the general recovery effort.

Warnings that United States assistance must be contingent at all times on European performance came from both the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the Special House Committee on foreign aid headed by Rep. Herter (R-Mass.).

The Senate committee wrote a provision into the Marshall Plan bill for termination of aid to any country which failed to live up to its promise for increased industrial and agricultural production or violated conditions laid down by the United States.

Aid also would be cut off if "changed conditions" in any of the (Continued on Page Two)

Falling Prices Deal Blow To Truman's Plan

Congressmen Believe Anti-Inflation Program Is Dealt Hard Blow

SOME OPINIONS BY CONGRESSMEN

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—A sampling of congressional opinion indicated today that falling prices virtually have dealt the death blow to President Truman's anti-inflation program despite his renewed plea for its enactment.

Mr. Truman's declaration that standby wage, price and ration controls are needed despite the market break was met immediately with statements from GOP leaders and some Democrats that the drop in commodity prices makes the program unnecessary.

One of the first GOP members to challenge the president was Rep. Wolcott of Michigan, chairman of the house banking committee. He said congress should suspend consideration of all economic legislation for two weeks to determine whether the market slump is the start of a "stabilizing recession".

General Levelling Off
There were even stronger GOP statements than that issued by (Continued on Page Two)

Utica, N. Y. Fire Traps Members Of Several Families

Fourteen Of 25 Persons In Three Story Building Fire Make Escape

CHILDREN ARE AMONG VICTIMS

(BULLETIN)
UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 13.—(INS)—Eleven persons were feared burned to death today when fire destroyed a Utica house after several children refused to heed entreaties to leap from a second story window.

Thirteen-year-old Mary Hogue leaped to safety from her bedroom window while several of her sisters and step-sisters, believed among those left in the flames, refused to follow her.

Fourteen of the 25 persons in the building escaped, three of them suffering injuries which sent them to a hospital for treatment.

Remove Five Bodies
Firemen probing the wreckage of the building removed five bodies, all burned beyond recognition. They were the bodies of two women, one with a baby in her arms, and two other children.

Early reports from the scene said that the Hagues all were related, some of the victims being the children of a step-mother, from a previous marriage, and others, children of the second marriage. Fire officials were striving to clarify the identities of the victims.

The alarm sounded at 3:58 a. m. Within a few moments, as firemen arrived, the wooden, three-story structure in which several families were living, was a roaring inferno.

Lived On Second Floor
Most of the missing, who were related, lived on the second floor. The top story was unoccupied.

First reports listed three persons injured and taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital. Their names were given as Dana Paye, 54; his wife, Ella, 46 and their daughter, Katherine, 19.

Police said the following persons were missing:
Shirley Hogue, 29, and the following other members of the Hogue family:
Virginia, 19; Geraldine, 10; Charley, 7; Audrey, 5; Dana, 3; Michael, 10 months; Mark, 8 months and Lee, five weeks.

Caution Urged In Traveling Highways

Ice Loosening Up On Main Traveled Roads; Secondary Roads Still Very Dangerous

At noon today county highways, which were extremely dangerous between five a. m. and nine a. m. were reported to be safer than they were earlier, but extreme caution was urged on all county roads. Rain which fell through the night was cause for careful driving.

The secondary or little traveled roads were still very dangerous and chains were advised for travel there by the highway head. Earlier this morning motorists realizing the dangerous condition of the road, either used care in driving or pulled off the highways and sought other means of transportation to their destination.

recipient nations made further aid inconsistent with American national interests.

The Senate decided that the ERP administrator should have power to determine the "form and measure" of aid to any country by taking into account the extent to which it complied with its self help pledges to the United States and to other participating countries.

The Herter committee, in a report on what western Europe can do for itself, expressed the fears that the Marshall Plan countries might suffer from an "illusion of stability and recovery" as a result of a sudden shower of American dollars.

P. J. FLAHERTY IS TAKEN BY DEATH AT MIAMI, FLA.

land February 1, 1879, the son of Patrick and Nora Flaherty. As a boy he was brought to Boston, Mass., by his parents and a little later the family moved to Verona, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh. Here he was reared.

While he lacked the advantages of a formal education, this was an obstacle he overcame by self education. He was in very truth a self made man, aggressive, courageous, a man of tremendous abilities and vitality.

As a young man he was attracted to accounting and through home studies mastered the intricacies of it. For some years he was an accountant for the Pennsylvania Railroad. In January 1909, at the invitation of the late George W. Johnson, he came to New Castle as the accountant for the Old American Car and Ship Hardware company. It was a small plant manufacturing various types of hardware and spun brass. In a short time he was operating the company.

Into Bearings 1912

In 1912 the automobile industry was beginning to expand and the need for bushings and bearings was apparent. In Muncie, Ind., he was asked by the Muncie Products company if his company could manufacture bronze bearings for automobiles. The company never had, but Mr. Flaherty's faith in himself and in the future of the automobile industry prompted him to say yes. He returned to New Castle immediately, installed new machinery, threw out many lines the company was manufacturing and soon bronze bushings and bearings were being produced here. Thus was born the Johnson Bronze company, today one of the world's most complete bushing and bearing manufacturers.

As the automobile industry expanded so did the Johnson Bronze company. In the first World War the company was engaged in manufacturing for war purposes, as it was in World War Two. But always the force of "P. J." as he was familiarly known, was felt in the operation and expansion of the company.

In 1928 he purchased the plant and since then had been the principal owner. For many years he was president of the company, relinquishing this post to his son, J. Preston Flaherty some years ago, while he became the chairman of the board.

Enlarged Operations

In 1944 he became the principal owner of the Somerville Iron Works in Somerville, N. J., which company also operates a plant in Chattanooga, Tenn. Some years ago his ability in the bronze industry attracted the Glacier Metals company of Middlesex, England, and he was asked to go to England and reorganize the operation of that company. He did so and for several years made annual trips to England in the interest of the company. He was a director of the company.

From a small, unimportant plant employing a comparative few, P. J. Flaherty brought the Johnson Bronze company to a place where it is recognized in the bronze industry as a world wide leader, a plant employing approximately 2000 men and women. This is his monument, this his contribution to his city and to the industrial life of America.

Busy as he was in his own business affairs he yet took time to aid in civic projects. One example is The Castleton Hotel. About 12 years ago the hotel was in a precarious position, financially. There was a grave question as to whether or not the bondholders would not foreclose upon the mortgage. He was asked to take over as president of the board of directors and did so. He applied himself to the complexities of the hotel affairs in the same manner he did everything else, boldly and efficiently. Today the hotel is free of debt and is in flourishing condition. Had it not been for Mr. Flaherty it probably would be a unit of some chain hotel company today and the holdings of local people would have been liquidated.

Other Interests

He served for many years as a director of the New Castle Hospital, the Citizens National Bank, the Greater New Castle Association, the New Castle Country Club, the Community Chess Club, the World War Two he gave of his time and his money to various war causes, particularly the U.S.O.

Some years ago he visualized a recreation center for his employees and the citizens of New Castle. A plot of ground, 45 acres in size, was purchased in the Croton district an over-all plan drawn. The first unit of the recreation area was dedicated last summer, Flaherty Field, a modern baseball field equipped for day or night games.

On June 11, 1903, he was married to Miss Julia Francis Shade of Pittsburgh. In 1909 he moved his family to New Castle. For many years the family residence has been at 339 Berger Place.

During the war the Federal government appointed him as a regional member of the National War Labor Board, while the War Production Board used his abilities as a member of the committee covering the bearing and bushing industry. Some months ago he was appointed by the government to the Copper and Copper Base Alloy Industry Advisory Council.

He was a member of St. Mary's church and here again he was active in the affairs of his church. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus and of the following clubs: The Duquesne club of Pittsburgh, the Detroit Athletic club of Detroit, Mich., the Canadian club of New York City, and the following clubs in Florida, Indian Creek, La Gorce and Bath. He was also a member of the Bearing Institute, the American Foundry Association and the American Manufacturers Association.

His life was a full one and he leaves behind him a record of achievement that is a typical American success story. Coming to America as the son of a poor family he forged ahead, through his own drive and initiative, to a successful business career and to a life of usefulness. His passing leaves a void in this community that will be difficult of replacement.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Julia Francis Flaherty, three sons, J. Preston, Joseph F. and Edward M. Flaherty, and a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Stack. Ten grandchildren are also surviving. They are: Patricia, Catherine, Francis, Jo Ann, Michael R., John Preston Jr., Patrick J. 2nd, Mary Marshall, and Alicia Marie Flaherty and Julia Marie Stack. J. Preston Flaherty and Edward M. Flaherty, his sons, are respectively, president and secretary of the Johnson Bronze company, while Joseph F. Flaherty, another son, is in charge of sales in the Detroit, Mich., area.

Mrs. Flaherty, sons J. Preston and Edward M., and daughter, Mrs. Eleanor M. Stack, will leave Miami Beach tonight with the body. Arrival here is expected Sunday night. The body will be taken to the Joseph R. Leyde Funeral Home at the corner of Highland and Winter avenues, where it will lie until funeral time. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church.

Wolcott, Sen. McCarthy (R Wis.), spoke for many majority party members when he declared: "The price drop shows that there is a general leveling off in process and that controls aren't needed. It also places the blame for inflation where it belongs—squarely on the government's unwise purchasing program."

"I don't think we have anything to worry about unless the government embarks on another excessive and badly timed buying program."

McCarthy, who has been considering anti-inflation legislation as a member of the senate banking committee, said he believes the price drop sealed the fate of controls so far as committee members are concerned. Such a bill, also was expressed by a Democratic member of the senate group—Sen. Robertson of Virginia.

Controls Unworkable

Rep. Monroney (D Okla.), a member of the house banking group backed up the president and opposed Wolcott's moratorium suggestion. But Robertson said the price break confirmed his conviction that controls are "unworkable" and that their chances are "licked."

Another Democratic senator, Johnson of Colorado, commented caustically: "Perhaps he (the president) needs them, but I doubt if the country does."

Sen. Hatch (D N. Mex.), said if prices level off where they are now, there will be no price controls at this session.

Society and CLUBS

"STYLING" TOPIC FOR JOINT MEETING

Longer skirts are here to stay and achieving the new look for spring will call for a hemline about two inches below mid-calf, Miss Marjorie Amick, instructor at the Powers School of Modeling in Pittsburgh, told an interested audience of Junior Woman's club and Evening Section of Woman's club members when they met jointly in the Castleton ballroom Tuesday evening for a program on "Styling."

Mrs. Delbert Denniston, of the Junior Woman's club welcomed the Evening Section members and introduced the speaker.

Miss Amick talked very interestingly for an hour, mainly about clothes, line, color, what makes up a basic wardrobe, and discussed how current fashions affect every woman. The first four items in a well-planned basic wardrobe, she told the group, might well be an all-year round coat, a basic crepe dress, a lightweight wool dress, and a suit.

To achieve a true personal style should be the aim of every woman, she advised, and it is often possible to substitute ingenuity for money in making one's clothes interesting.

Business was dispensed with except for several announcements and afterward refreshments were served from a long buffet table to approximately 100.

Hostess committee was Mrs. Frank Elliott, Mrs. Ernest Stitzinger, Miss Mary Breneman, Mrs. James B. Foster, Jr., Mrs. Doyle Birney, and Mrs. Charles Greene.

Next meeting will be February 26 in the home of Mrs. Russell Remaley, 324 East Moody avenue, when Miss Margaret Cowmeadow will give a book review.

Hogue-Hammond Wedding

At a quiet single ring ceremony solemnized in the presence of the immediate families on Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the First Baptist church, Miss Viola Mae Hogue, daughter of Mrs. Cora Hogue of 319 Shaw street, became the bride of Harvey C. Hammond, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. Hammond of R. D. 5. Rev. Oliver W. Hurst officiated.

The bride wore a light blue crepe dress and a corsage of gardenias. The couple was unattended.

After the ceremony there was a reception for 26 guests in the home of the bride's mother with the bride's aunt, Mrs. Carrie Morrow, and her sister, Mrs. James Irvin, as aides. Refreshments were served with a wedding cake as a feature.

Dispensing with a wedding trip the newlyweds have taken up residence with the bride's mother. Mr. Hammond is employed at a local service station.

Later tea was served from a table decorated with sprays of forced forsythia and pussywillow. Mrs. Howard Butler poured.

Games were enjoyed, and later members of the Chrysolite club, of which Mrs. Retort is a member, attended to assist in the celebration together with a special guest, Mrs. Anna Domenick. The club presented Mrs. Retort with a gift and hankie shower. She also received flowers from her children and many other beautiful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Retort were married February 12, 1923, in St. Vitus church. They have five children, Mrs. Sam Campoli, Mrs. Dorothy Minett, Rita Ann, Joseph and John Retort, and one granddaughter, Elizabeth Ann Retort.

OAKWOOD GARDEN PROGRAM THURSDAY

Mrs. Wylie Cooper, who presided, opened the meeting with a poem, "My Seed Catalogue." Mrs. Wallace L. Wright was welcomed into the club.

Mrs. J. H. Elmore, speaker, selected as her subject "The Farmers' Market of Los Angeles" illustrating her description based on personal observation with pictures of the market. Her talk was a most interesting one.

Mrs. Clayton Hofmeister's paper on "Controlling the Weather" was very instructive.

In answer to roll call each member presented an original program cover to be judged. Winner of the contest, Mrs. Milton Pattison, was awarded an appropriate prize.

It was decided that the club will make a contribution to the Walter Boron family who lost their home and its entire contents in a recent fire.

Mrs. R. R. Peden reported from the Garden Council and announced that for the March meeting in Trinity Episcopal church guild room, the Oakwood club will be the hostess club.

At a late hour, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses with the Valentine motif carried out.

Next meeting will be March 11 in the home of Miss Pearl Atkinson, Youngstown road, with Mrs. Wylie Cooper as associate hostess.

Saturday, February 7. Rev. Wallace Kosin, assistant pastor of St. Brendan's church, Youngstown, the groom's uncle, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a white satin gown with long sleeves and a veil, trimmed with an abundance of lace and tiny pearls, which had been brought from Belgium by a friend. Her maid of honor was Miss Betty Murphy of Youngstown, who wore a blue satin gown. Best man was the groom's brother, Chester Polanskey.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served for the bridal party and the immediate families at the home of the groom's parents, where in the evening dinner was served to guests. In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

The Soviet government has confessed finally to the world its rigorous and absolute regimentation of culture, art and music in modern Russia.

And the question immediately arises: of what is it afraid?

Action of the central executive committee in banning a new opera by the composer Vano Muradeli, discharging the chief of the Soviet arts committee and criticizing a number of well-known composers for "bourgeois" tendencies highlights one of the strangest facets of the Soviet character.

Hardly Understandable

If the compositions in question held Stalin, Molotov or the Soviet system up to ridicule, the order would be understandable. For modern Russia is by no means ready for a throttlebottom or a wintergreen.

The crackdown springs from the fact that musical works in Russia as well as elsewhere are seeking a new delineation of form—just as in all the other arts. Stalin and his high-placed satellites choose to believe that the composers are aping the west.

Inasmuch as they insist that the west is doomed, they read into the magnificent harmonies of Prokofiev a dance of death and in the choruses of Shostakovich a song of decadence.

Many music enthusiasts, however, will look upon the Russian action as proof that music is an enormously powerful factor in national and international life, rather than a dying art.

Number Of Notable Cases

There are a number of notable cases in which music played a major role in history. The Star Spangled Banner and the Marseillaise spring easily to mind.

And there is Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture, Sibelius' incomparable "Finlandia" and the far less choice items such as Hitler's "Horst Wessel Song" and Mussolini's "Giovanezza".

Most latest announcements from Moscow are entirely in line with rising criticism in the Soviet press against the refusal of western democratic ideas and ideals to die completely on Russian soil itself.

They confirm that an artist can function in Russia only on party lines. They indicate it is really true that the best way for a Soviet artist to achieve success is to paint a great big picture of Stalin with or without Lenin.

But fundamentally they betray Soviet doubt over the permanence and solidarity of the whole Communist system.

It would seem that after thirty years of a hard-drink existence the Soviets need not fear the mellow fluid of French horns or the faint pluck of violin strings.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN CHILD IS ALWAYS GROUCHY

You should expect every child to have his ups and downs. But if he is ill-natured most of the time you should try to ascertain the cause. You should, of course, have the child checked by your physician, insisting that it be done thoroughly. Also, you should ask yourself if this child is enjoying reasonable success at work and play, and if he feels secure. Then you should examine his relationships in the family and the way you have been dealing with him, trying to put yourself in his place and see a little as he sees and feel a little as he feels.

"Dear Dr. Myers: At the close of school last spring I wrote asking you about my son lagging in his school work. You enclosed some home helps and advised my helping him during the summer and letting him go on, with the teacher's approval, into the fourth grade. I want to thank you very much for the advice and tell you he is making nice grades this year.

Biggest Problem

"At the time I wrote you I thought my attitude at school was my biggest problem, but I have one now that is about to drive me crazy . . . I have tried talking to him but he just looks hateful . . . He complains about everything and always finds fault. He gripes about having to go to bed, bath, brush his teeth, eat, study. After he gets into bed at night I just feel like crying. I can find no reason for it. My husband and I are congenial and were both brought up in happy homes . . . When I send him to the bathroom to brush his teeth and bathe he will get into the tub and gripe and gripe and just half do the job. I know it's wrong but I find if I will just go and bathe him and brush his teeth and talk about something pleasant all goes well."

Here was my reply in part: This lad has found that by being ugly he can force you to be his slave and body servant. Quit doing for him what he can do for himself. Better for him to go to bed poorly bathed by himself than well bathed by you. While you must set some standards for his grooming, hours of sleep and so on, you don't need to treat him as if he were three. Why tell him each time when he should have a bath, brush his teeth or go to bed? Post a schedule for the next morning or so. Just check and enforce or so. Some penalties (other than jawing).

Following The Schedule

But suppose he does not go to bed tonight as per schedule. Tell him he can choose between going to bed at once or sitting in a chair when you can see him without any amusement for exactly one hour. Then if he should leave the chair before the time is up? Apply a strap or paddle soundly. Continue this program night after night till he chooses to conform.

Be sure you do not show or even feel you are hurt or annoyed when he "gripes." No doubt he gains great enjoyment over knowing how badly he can make you feel. Never talk back to him nor exhort or lecture him about the matter. Settle a few things so you can quit being "mad" most of the time, but can have fun with the lad.

I hope Dad and you play games with him and become his playmates to your home for good times; that you all enjoy delightful conversation together, especially at meals. That lad may feel that you and his father are always against him, that he can't please either of you anyway, so why try? Since he is your only son, I hope you and Dad and the boy find a way to enjoy being together, so that each of you will look forward to the evening meal and the precious evening hours.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

On January 17, 1928 the New Castle City Council adopted Ordinance No. 4093 . . . which deals with parking on city streets . . . It reads: "Prohibiting parking of automobiles and other vehicles on the streets and highways of the City between the hours of 1:00 o'clock a. m. and 6:00 o'clock a. m. and for the removal by officers of the City of all cars parked in violation of this Ordinance, at the expense of the owners thereof, and providing further penalties for the violation of this Ordinance."

Various reasons are put forth as to why this ordinance was necessary . . . to enable the streets to be cleaned . . . "many persons have formed a dangerous practice of allowing their automobiles to be parked in the streets of the City of New Castle throughout the night and from night to night" . . . "so that the streets have been rendered dangerous to public travel."

Penalties . . . Section 5 . . . "Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction by the Mayor or any alderman of the said City, be subject to the payment of a fine not exceeding One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars and the costs of prosecution and in default of payment of the said fine and costs, to imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed thirty (30) days . . ."

Why has this ordinance been dug up? If you would travel around the town you will find many cars that have been parked on city streets for the past three weeks or longer . . . ever since the first snow . . . These cars are a hazard to the motoring public . . . not to mention the fire department . . . We feel that something should be done to clear the streets of permanent parked cars and trucks . . . and there is no satisfaction in knowing that other towns have such parked cars and trucks . . . the dirty snow now packed against these parkers make 'em stand out like a sore thumb.

"Too Many Cooks!"

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Indignation Over Speculation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The cries of righteous indignation that have come up over speculation by government officials seem a little out of proportion to the crime involved. This is true particularly when you consider some of the things going on in this Congress.

It is a notorious fact that an increasing number of congressmen retain their connections with their law firms back home and either directly or indirectly represent their clients in Washington. A remarkable example of this practice has recently come to light.

Sponsor Of A Bill

Rep. Boss Rizley of Oklahoma is the sponsor of a bill passed by the House last summer which would enable natural gas companies to raise their rates substantially and increase their profits. Some of these same companies are clients of the law firm in which Rizley is a partner in Guymon, Okla. So here we have a man, who was presumably elected to represent all the people of his district, speaking for the narrow interests of a few large companies that are owned and controlled a long way from Guymon, Okla.

At least Rep. Rizley has the frankness to admit his connection with his firm and the clients represented by that firm. A number of congressmen are not so frank. They go through the motions of severing their law connections, yet

They Say

WASHINGTON—CIO President Murray explains his grand jury indictment charging violation of the Taft-Hartley law for causing the CIO News to support a political candidate: "I acted (to) enable the courts . . . to rule again . . . that congress (cannot) abridge . . . freedom of press."

WASHINGTON—Agriculture Secretary Anderson denies E. T. Maynard, successful Chicago wheat trader, obtained "inside" information: "I suggest that, instead of making any such accusation, we consider arranging for him to share his information with the government."

MOSCOW—Soviet Russia criticizes some of its leading composers: "They have distorted music into a cacophony of meaningless sounds, strongly smelling of the modernist bourgeois music of Britain and America, reflecting negation of musical art . . ."

BERLIN—Marshall Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, criticizes the new Anglo-American bilateral setup: "The Soviet command wants to forewarn the United States and the United Kingdom that the splitting of Germany may lead to very serious consequences."

If Stalin lives to be 150 he will be around for the verdict of history and I hope he has a nice trial.

And I don't think any defense will be acceptable that starts with the line "I was only 75 at the time . . . just a growing boy."

But there is this story that the boss man of Russia is taking everlasting pills which would keep him going to age 150.

They must be good . . . they were perfected by a man who died at 64.

That's where we wish the thermometer died last summer . . . it just keeps sinking.

They say you can tell how long winter will last by feeling the thickness of a bear's fur coat . . . let me know how you make out or remind your survivors.

State Police Say:

Many drivers do not seem to realize that winter storms are the signal for a large number of workers to begin their specially assigned task of keeping the highways open for travel. It is often necessary for snow plows and cinder plows to operate in stormy weather and darkness when visibility and travel conditions are at their worst. The job is to keep the highways open and safe. Motorists should exercise every precaution for their protection.

Hints On Etiquette

Putting salt on the tablecloth is an old custom when the salt cellar or shaker is out of reach. Celery or radishes never should be dipped in this, however. Salt for such foods should be put on the edge of the plate.

Fritz Kuhn On Lam Again

By PAUL GALLICO

That fat thief, Fritz Kuhn, is on the lam again back in that dear Fatherland, or at least he was at this writing, having dusted out of the Dachau Camp apparently in order to avoid having to give testimony in the trial of some 21 former Nazi Foreign Office heads. The snoty Fuehrer apparently got the order to blow "or else," climbed over the wall and started legging it across the landscape. And once upon a time that stupid, puffed-up pilferer actually believed that he was to become the Glaueiler and dictator of the United States.

It takes me back to the days when life was comparatively simple around here and our only worry was a bevy of boobs with German-sounding names who liked to dress up in fancy uniforms and parade around in camps in New Jersey shouting "Heil," drinking beer and smacking their lips over the day when they would seize the U. S. A. in the name of the All Highest and live forever off the fat of the land without working.

Snatch America Movement

Fuehrer Fritz had an office up in Yorkville, the headquarters of the Bund or Snatch America Movement, and I used to go up to interview him for pieces for the paper. The fat boy was very touchy about the press and how it treated him, whining that he was misquoted and everyone was against him, but beneath the whine you could feel the implication that when the Bund took over, things would be different.

Once I sat in his office for an hour watching him open envelopes and fork out checks sent in by well-wishers, admirers and supporters of his great cultural movement and some of them, I understand, were for pretty heavy sugar and were "Hannecock" with names of important industrialists that would have surprised you, at least so Fritz said, but he would never leave his desk long enough to let me purloin a peek at the names of the saps who were kicking in dough to buy themselves a share of the dirtiest political philosophy next to Communism that the world has ever seen.

Turned Out To Be Prize Suckers

Of course, they turned out to be the prize suckers as does every chump who figures he can purchase his way into power and preference because pretty soon the fancy figures on those checks began to excite the greedy porker that lived inside Fritz's carcass, and some of it began sticking to his fingers and shortly after that the authorities tossed the American version of the All-Highest into the sneezer, not for trying to plant the Swastika over the White House, but for common ordinary low-down embezzlement.

We were all excited and worked up in those days about Bundists and Nazis and the Threat to Democracy and all those frustrated Krauts from 86th Street and First Avenue crowding their bellies into tight-fitting brown uniforms and marching about belching "Heil" seemed important. Why, they were nothing but nasty little brats hardly worthy of notice compared to what we are up against with the Commie crowd. They were kid stuff in the subversive league.

Life Was So Simple

One almost wishes for Fritz back again. Life was so simple when he and his volksgenossen were around. In the first place, they all gave their right names and when you heard of meetings attended by a lot of guys named Wilhelm Sauerbraten and Heinrich Hasenpfeffer, you knew where you were at. They had square heads and Hindenburg haircuts and Hitler mustaches and crows' feet you could spot a mile away, and to make it easier for you they'd wear an armband or a brownshirt.

Now these Commie monkeys might be called something like Vishinsky, or Molotov, or Petropavlovsk, which is not too hard to spot, but they are also called Smith and Jones and Brown, which makes them more difficult to spot. And they DON'T wear uniforms, or the Hammer and Sickle on their sleeves. They organize in the dark; they hit where it hurts and they DON'T let you know what they are up to. Fritz and his Yorkville apes was a lead-pipe cinch compared to them.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

NINE YEARS OLD

Now with eyes that fairly shine He is boasting: "I am nine!" With the eighth year done and gone, I should call that "getting on" Nine! That's when a fellow knows Who is the picture shows; Who Joe Louis is and who Caught the passes Chappius threw. Nine! That's when the legs are stout, Fit to romp and race about; When, no matter how you fall, You get up not hurt at all; When until your book you've read You don't want to go to bed. Nine! At dinner when you try For a second piece of pie.

Nine years old! The glorious time When an apple tree you'll climb, Unafraid to eat them green, Wormy, bitter and unclean. Nine—when earthquakes couldn't shake, Hard enough a boy to wake; When the worst that life can spoil Is a dose of castor oil. Oh, what memories are mine! Once I boasted: "I am nine!" Engineers To See New Film Monday On Welding Processes

Electric Arc Welding. Advancements Will Be Shown Through General Electric Film

Members of the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineers society will see a splendid new color talking film in the General Electric Company's "More Power to America" program at their dinner meeting in the Castleton, Monday evening, at 7 o'clock. The film will be on electric arc welding.

The engineers will be taken on a thirty-minute tour of the country's outstanding welding operations in this picture, which will show how welding reduces manufacturing costs and fabricates better products.

Fifty-three outstanding welding operations were selected and were photographed for this picture in various sections of the country between Los Angeles and Boston. One of the features will be a close-up picture in color of atomic-hydrogen welding, in addition to metal arc welding, inert arc welding, both manual and automatic.

The picture has been secured through the cooperation of J. H. Coleman, of the General Electric Company, at Pittsburgh, and the Pennsylvania Power Co.

EAST SIDE GARDEN CLUB HAS LUNCHEON

Carrying out the valentine motif in every detail was the February luncheon meeting of the East Side Garden club Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Humphrey Richards, 626 Raymond street. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock from a table centered with a bowl of spring flowers flanked by red candles and red hearts.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moore and Mrs. L. E. Cramer poured.

Roll call answer was to name a flower and tell the meaning of it.

On the program three papers of timely interest to gardeners were given. "What Is New in Annuals?" by Mrs. Cramer, telling of the particularly interesting new varieties of zinnias, petunias, phlox, and dwarf morning glories for edgings. She showed pictures of the new annuals and told in some detail when and how to plant each one.

Miss Anna Dietterle's paper was on the topic, "You Need a Cold Frame" and set forth directions for building one and what to plant in one and how to use it.

Also very interesting was Mrs. E. L. Davenport's paper entitled "A Study of Insects Is Worth Your Trouble."

It was decided that each member during the coming summer will plant one particular kind of new flower, grow it, and report on the result. Each member will draw the name of the variety she is to grow at the next meeting.

Mrs. E. L. Davenport presided over the business meeting and read letters from two members, Mrs. Lillian Ward, now living in San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. Mary Robinson, now in Florida. Both contained much information about plants and flowers of interest to the club members.

Next meeting will be March 10 when Miss Della Glenn, of the Hamilton apartments will be hostess.

Gov. Dewey Calls For Formation Of W. European Bloc

BOSTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York has called for the formation of a western European bloc to act as a bulwark against the expansion of Communism.

In a Lincoln day address, last night in Boston, Dewey denounced Russian aggression and urged that Marshall plan contributions to Europe's recovery be utilized to promote an economic federation of the participating nations.

He told Boston's Middlesex club: "Our aid should be given in proportion to European effort to achieve unity. The faster it progresses, the sooner we will come to the end of our task."

"A real administrator will spend money just as rapidly as he can see concrete results in getting Europe united and back on its feet at the lowest possible cost."

Dewey attacked the Democratic administration for "sacrificing" the Balkan states and Poland to the Soviet Union, and declared that the present administration policy on China will result in delivering the Chinese to Communism.

The Marshall plan cannot succeed, he asserted, unless the production of Germany's industrial Ruhr area is permitted to reach its prewar level.

PARKING METERS
WASHINGTON, D. C.—(INS)—Parking meters are "still going strong" in the majority of cities where they have been used for 10 years or longer according to a survey by the International City Managers' Association. Surveying 20 representative cities throughout the U. S., the Association discovered that in 13, most of the original meters are still in service after a decade or more of use. Since the war, the number of cities using parking meters has more than doubled.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

MY VERY OWN
Very early in their lives children should learn to be responsible.

They should be given some article to be their very own. They should have full possession of it and no one else should interfere.

Then they should learn to respect the possessions of others. Responsibility seems to be a hard lesson for some people to learn. When a job or an office or a position or a contract is assumed, the bitter should be taken with the sweet.

Mental hygiene or mental health is just as important as bodily health.

Children need to learn how to care for the mind just as well as to care for the body.

Juvenile responsibility and juvenile delinquency were pretty hard problems for Adam and Eve. Sometimes it seems as though we have not improved very much since then.

The question whether a platypus lays eggs was debated for 80 years. It does.

Communists Seek Schuman Ouster

PARIS, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The politburo of the French Communist party issued a demand today for the ouster of Premier Robert Schuman's government.

The statement attacked current government financial measures and charged that these steps by the Schuman regime are responsible for high prices.

The government also was criticized for reopening the frontier with Spain.

The Communist complained further against what they said was the return of "notorious Vichyites to public life."

BIG GAME KILL

HARRISBURG—Preliminary tabulations of big game reports filed this year by successful Pennsylvania hunters indicate that a six-year-old record was broken during the open season on black bear late in November. Cards counted to date show a bear kill of 567 during the 1947 season. The previous high was in 1941 when 593 bears were bagged. Cards counted so far show a 1947 deer kill of over 30,000 legal bucks and more than 62,000 legal antlerless animals.

FEWER BABY CHICKS
HARRISBURG—The State Department of Agriculture announced today that, according to preliminary federal-state estimates, 61,510,000 baby chicks were produced in Pennsylvania during 1947, one per cent less than in 1946.

TREACHEROUS ROADS

According to Jay Fullerton, residing beyond Mt. Jackson, says that this morning he witnessed 31 automobiles in the ditch along the road between Mt. Jackson and Mahoningtown. Fortunately he managed to get along carefully with chains. The road was covered with a thin covering of ice.

It is reported that on the East Cherry and West Pittsburgh road traffic was tied up for quite a while, cars being unable to make the hill to the West Pittsburgh road. A number of cars seeking to get to Universal Pottery and B. and O. shops took the Wampum road, over 18 to Moravia, and then to West Pittsburgh.

Game Protector Urges Feeding Of All Wildlife

MARTINSBURG, Pa., Feb. 13.—(INS)—The wildlife of Blain and Bedford counties have not come so close to perishing in years as they have this year, with the prolonged cold spell and heavy snows, according to State Game Protector Roland F. Turley, of Martinsburg, Pa.

Protector Turley has issued a call to all sportsmen's organizations and farmers and others interested in preserving wildlife to do their utmost to get feed out where birds and animals may find it.

Other state game protectors in other parts of the state also have appealed for help from individuals and organizations.

The Rod and Gun Club, of Loysburg, Pa., and the River's Gap Sportsmen's Association, of Woodbury, Pa., are both reported actively helping to supply feed to wildlife in Bedford county.

Other organizations as well as many individuals throughout the area are also reported to be spreading corn, grain and apples through the woods.

has been warning of a plot to undermine faith in Congress, could not have known the full significance of the Rileys bill when his Republican flock voted for it in the House last July. There is no surer way to undermine that faith than by advertising the fact that corporations can hire lawyers who are also members of Congress and who will push the special interests of their clients.

Pressure Is Great

The pressure of the gas companies that is now concentrated in the Senate is obviously great. It is blamed for a "compromise" within the Federal Power Commission which would make possible the same kind of rate increase that the Rileys bill authorizes. Chairman Nelson L. Smith and Commissioner Harrington Wimberly support this compromise.

B. N. Behling, a fifth member, has been nominated by President Truman. Behling has indicated his willingness to go along with the "compromise." Back of this is said to be an involved political deal.

In their defense, the gas companies argue that the increased cost to the consumer would be small—far less than the $58,000,000 a year often cited. And they say it would mean more natural gas for all users.

A study by the Federal Power Commission shows the gas companies made generous profits from 1939 to 1946. Those profits are part of the free-enterprise system which most American support. Profit-seekers should understand that abuses and excesses can do far more to bring about its destruction than any sabotage from the outside.

Grapefruit And Oranges Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1948, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)
BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 13.—I am sorry to see my citrus friends here in Florida feeling so low. After several prosperous years, grapefruit are selling at 20 cents a box, on the trees, and oranges are selling at 40 cents. No grower can raise fruit for these prices.

During the war the government took about one-half the crop. This was dehydrated to one-seventh its normal bulk and sent in large cans to our soldiers in Europe. When the war stopped, the government suddenly stopped buying which resulted in the citrus people losing one-half of their customers all at one blow. People up north are not buying as much citrus as they were. With the high price of steaks, fish and vegetables, people are economizing on other food items. In addition to consumers buying less, many more trees have been set out during the last few years which has increased production. Citrus is unlike a tomato crop or any other annual crop which can be cut off at any time. It takes seven years before a tree begins to bear, and then it bears almost forever.

Health Value of Citrus Fruits
I have no citrus fruit to sell, but I can honestly tell readers that citrus fruits should be eaten by all people who wish to keep well. A No. 2 can of grapefruit or orange juice has about 350 milligrams of vitamin C. Each can has the equivalent of about three grapefruit or four oranges. Citrus fruit also has the valuable vitamin P and certain other important vitamins and minerals.

Grapefruit juice can be purchased in No. 2 cans that sell, as a rule, two for 25 cents or about half the pre-war prices. In fact they are selling much below pre-war costs. These No. 2 cans can be purchased in cartons holding 24 cans. I earnestly advise every family to buy now, while the price is low, one or more cartons for winter use.

"Remedies" Proposed By Growers
The citrus growers of Texas, California, Arizona and Florida are holding meetings every day as to how to increase the price and avoid further losses. Some growers recommend destroying a portion of the crop; others are urging that all get together and agree on a fixed minimum price. At best these two suggestions are but stop-gaps.

Today, however, all connected with the industry get their pay while the grower is obliged to take what is left. Pickers and haulers charge some 25 cents per box; the processing of the fruit costs about a dollar a box; the freight costs over a dollar a box, and of course the various handlers take their commissions. This leaves nothing for the honest grower.

(1) Spend more on newspaper advertising, telling consumers the real health value in citrus juices, and especially advise the purchase of cans in cartons rather than two cans at a time.

(2) Reduce the cost of production by eliminating coloring, polishing, over-fertilization and such spraying as is done just to make the groves look handsome.

(3) Stop new plantings. Notwithstanding these very low prices, I find that new groves are constantly being set out in California, Arizona, Texas and Florida. The growers should immediately start active propaganda so that anyone who now sets out a new grove would be looked upon as an undesirable citizen.

Lesson To All
I travel widely throughout the agricultural sections of our country. Farmers, ranchers, fruit growers and others in most sections have been making a lot of money during the last few years. These fortunate people have, however, been spending money carelessly, believing that good times will always continue. As a result, now that hard times have come, they have no financial reserves and are begging for government help. Every business should expect poor years and good years, and it is only reasonable to expect all producers to lay aside a portion of their profits in good years to make up losses in poor years.

Therefore, I urge all growers of any products, who are still making money, to save their money. You who are growing wheat, raising livestock and are prospering in other lines, should remember that hard times are coming to you the same as they have to the citrus people. I therefore urge you to now "save money for a rainy day"—or to speak more correctly, to save now, for days when it won't rain.

Ambassador Butler Given Recall From Dominican Republic

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The state department said Thursday that the recall of Ambassador George Butler from the Dominican republic in no way reflects any change in the relations between the United States and that country.

State Department Spokesman Michael J. McDermott said a new envoy would be sent to Trujillo City as soon as someone qualified to replace Butler can be found.

Relations Normal
United States relations with the Dominican republic, he emphasized, remain entirely normal. Butler is being recalled to fill one of the most important but least publicized posts in the state department. It is with the policy planning committee which Secretary Marshall established early in his regime to maintain a continuing review of international developments and American foreign policy.

Tech Professor Taken By Death

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Funeral services will be held Saturday for Dr. Joseph Hidy James, 79, professor emeritus and first head of the department of chemical engineering at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, it was announced today.

Dr. James died early yesterday at his home in Pittsburgh. Dr. James was born in Jefferson, O., in 1868 and had been an educator, author and leader in the fields of chemistry and chemical engineering for more than 40 years.

He joined the faculty of Carnegie Institute as an assistant professor in 1905 and shortly after was appointed head of the department of chemical engineering which he headed until his retirement in 1937.

EXPLAINS NEW TEXTILE TERMS

Many new terms have appeared on garment and fabric labels since homemakers have been asking for more information about the quality of the clothes they buy.

A coat or jacket labeled "water repellent" indicates a finish has been applied to keep the fabric from absorbing moisture readily. This finish is not guaranteed to be water-proof. None of the water repellent finishes on the market today are guaranteed to last through more than a few washings or dry cleanings. Many cleaners will renew this finish after cleaning a garment if requested to do so.

"Vat dyes" is a term homemakers will find often, usually on cottons. It means that the color will remain in the fabric as long as the fabric lasts. Vat dyes are the most nearly fast dyes used. However, a vat dyed fabric should not be abused, any more than a fabric containing a less permanent dye. The valuable term "Sanforized," which guarantees shrinkage control in cottons, has a new companion term, "Sanforset," applied to rayons. "Sanforset" is a method of shrinkage control for rayon and rayon mixtures containing up to 50 per cent viscose rayon.

Milk has stepped into the textile world in a fabric called "Aralac." Made from the casein of milk, this fabric has some of the characteristics of wool and is usually blended with cotton, wool, or rayon.

UNIVERSITY GETS NEW SOCIOLOGY DEPARTMENT HEAD
MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Feb. 13.—(INS)—Dr. Harold Allan Gibbard of Lawrence, Kas., former member of the sociology faculty at the University of Kansas, has been named head of the department of sociology at West Virginia university. President Irvin Stewart has announced.

Dr. Gibbard will assume his duties July 16 at the start of the second half of the summer session. He will fill a vacancy left vacant by the retirement of Dr. Thomas L. Harris last June 30.

Should Have Given Woman Gold Medal

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The Electric Storage Battery company of Philadelphia awarded a gold watch Thursday to an employee evidently not in need of it. The recipient of the award was Miss Caroline L. Fleck, rewarded for 25 years of service with the company.

In all her years of service, however, Miss Fleck has never so much as been one minute late for work.

The first use of selective service devices in America was in the county of Bath, North Carolina, when Royal Governor Hyde called all able-bodied men to the militia around 1710.

Seek To Increase Supplies Of Gas To Four States

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The Federal Power Commission acted Thursday to increase home heating gas supplies to New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

An FPC order, effective until Feb. 22, directed the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. to furnish an additional 13 million cubic feet of gas daily to the Kentucky Natural Gas Co. and continue deliveries of 15 million cubic feet a day to the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

The commission also ordered the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. to deliver an additional 10 1/2 million cubic feet daily to the United Natural Gas Co. for Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and West Virginia, and discontinuing deliveries of the same amount to the Kentucky company.

Will Increase Flow
The shift will have a net result of increasing deliveries to Kentucky Natural by 2 1/2 million cubic feet daily and shipments to United Natural by 10 1/2 million feet a day.

The FPC order did not reduce Panhandle's contracted deliveries to Michigan.

The commission said that its order was prompted by critical shortages in the areas affected and that as long as the emergency deliveries are continued, Kentucky Natural and its utilities cannot deliver gas for industrial uses in excess of 10 per cent of normal requirements.

Rent Control Law Change Considered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Rep. Wolcott (R) Mich., co-author of the federal rent control law, disclosed that consideration is being given to restoring government authority for prosecuting landlords who violate the act.

Wolcott declared that the house banking and currency committee will meet Monday in executive session to begin work on legislation extending the rent control act beyond Feb. 29.

Among the proposals the committee will consider is one by Tighe Woods, rent control administrator, restoring to the federal government the authority it previously held to prosecute landlords who violate the law.

Under the existing law, which congress is considered certain to extend in some form, the tenant must institute court proceedings if he feels his landlord is overcharging him or attempting to evict him illegally.

The first library to be set up in the American colonies by legislative enactment was established at Bath, North Carolina.

Store Owner Foils Pittsburgh Holdup

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 13.—(INS)—A pair of holdup men were frustrated in their attempt to rob a Pittsburgh jewelry store when the owner of the store wrested the gun from one of them, police reported today.

A. J. Winsberg, proprietor of the store, said one of the men entered his store and asked to see some diamonds. A few minutes later the second man entered and asked Winsberg's nephew, Lawrence Klotz, to see some watches.

While Klotz was showing the watches he heard a scuffle and turned to see his uncle struggling with the first man. Klotz went to his uncle's aid and the second man called to his partner.

The bandits fled leaving their gun in Winsberg's possession.

Rubber Check Passer Wants Long Jail Terms

TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 13.—(INS)—The so-called East Chicago "rubber check passer," who gained notoriety by buying a Los Angeles night club with a bogus $17,000 check and selling it next day for $22,000, wants long jail terms.

Howell F. McCann, 50, Temple University graduate, was arraigned in superior court on two bad check indictments. He was sentenced to serve three months in New Bedford House of Correction. The sentence will be served at the conclusion of the sentence McCann is now serving in Worcester on a similar complaint.

Asked by Judge Joseph L. Hurley if he had anything to say, the defendant replied: "Yes, judge, plenty. Your Honor, I'm doing life on the installment plan. The chances are I won't come out. Why give me three months at this time? Make it a load here. This is costing the state $30,000, shipping me from county to county. I had a good time while it lasted and can't squawk now." Judge Hurley suggested the idea be passed on to the next judge. So McCann went back to Worcester.

Students Strike At Brentwood High

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Approximately 200 students of Brentwood high school in Pittsburgh were on strike today in protest of an alleged beating of a high school junior.

The strikers, nearly one-half the student body, walked out of classes yesterday at noon when Dick Frarie, the student, said that Stuart Ackelson, a chemistry instructor, beat him for a minor violation of the auditorium rules.

Frarie claimed that Ackelson slapped him in the school auditorium and then took him to the gymnasium where he punched him several times.

The striking students carried placards demanding Ackelson's ouster.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Coleen Gray, who earned $15 to $25 a week waiting tables, running switchboards and working at other odd jobs before 20th Century-Fox discovered her, will forego the usual mink coat that Hollywood thinks comes with stardom.

Just finished her third top role, with Victor Mature in "The Ballad of Furnace Creek," she rides a bus to the studio from her home a mile away, lives in the same $65-a-month apartment, makes most of her own clothes and takes care of her household.

Her first "luxury" when the studio gave her a raise in salary before starting the picture was a gabardine suit.

Doesn't Want Mink "I'll never own a mink," she said. "After you've made $80 a month and worked your way through college, you want to save money when you get some that you can save."

Coleen budgets her household expenses, except for rent and utilities, at $25 a week although she admits that these days she seldom gets by for less than $30 for her family which includes her writer-husband, Rodney Amateau, and her year-old baby, Susan.

"As soon as we've put $5,000 aside," she said, "we want to buy a car, our first one, a home and a radio phonograph."

Finds Men Difficult June Havoc, who plays the kind of a spy who would like to tell secrets to, sometimes finds men difficult.

The other day Miss Havoc thrust her legs into some nylon for a scene in "The Iron Curtain." The scene was designed to break down the reserve of Dana Andrews.

Director William Wellman wanted Miss Havoc to keep her stockings up with some baby blue garters adorned by a precious stone. She looked at him as though he had offered her a pinch of snuff. "I always use a girdle or a garter belt," she informed him. "If you use garters, stockings wrinkle."

Wellman was a little taken aback. "Well," he said, "let's call it dramatic license and use the garters."

Miss Havoc said she wasn't going around in droopy stockings. She said she had her reputation to think about and that she would receive letters from women asking her why she didn't wear a girdle.

At that point Wellman proved himself quite a diplomat.

"But you don't need a girdle," he said. "You have a perfect figure."

Miss Havoc was undeterred by any such flattery.

"I'll leave it to the girls on the set," she said. "We'll take a vote."

The vote was unanimous and Wellman acquiesced. He consulted his wife that evening and she was shocked to think he was so out of style as to want jeweled garters.

"Really, my dear," she told him, "you should be more observing."

Says Roosevelt Predicted Break Up Of Soviet Union

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(INS)—Former Gov. George H. Earle, of Pennsylvania, says President Roosevelt predicted to him during the Casablanca conference that Soviet Union "will break up when this war is over."

The former minister to Austria and Bulgaria told the House Foreign Affairs committee that when he warned the late president that "Russia is a far greater menace than Germany," Roosevelt replied: "George, don't worry. Russia is so big it will break up when this war is over."

Earle, ex-president of the Anti-Communist Association of America, quoted Roosevelt as pointing out that the Soviet Union consisted of 160 million people speaking about 25 different languages.

DENVER—(INS)—After 31 years of driving a two-horse hack and 26 years of driving a taxicab, without an injury to any passenger carried, Bill Myers of Denver, recently decided it was time to quit. Myers figured that the law of averages eventually would catch up with him. However, the Zone Cab company refused to let him quit. The 75-year-old veteran of thousands of traffic jams has been named dispatcher, and now directs cabs by two-way radio.

KEEPING CONVERSATION GOING

"How does a hostess keep conversation going with a group of guests who do not play bridge? I find it very difficult, especially when they are of different mental types."

Answer: It is always a hostess' responsibility to keep conversation flowing without any embarrassing silences. I cannot give you any set formula, for topics crop up accidentally. Probably the easiest starter of conversation is to ask if anyone has seen such and such a movie and to follow with queries as to opinions on the actors featured in it. Or, if some guest picks up a book from a table and asks who is reading it, you may reply that you are and that it is very interesting. Never go into details about plots but you may give a cursory account of their salient points. That will break the ice and another guest will probably find a similarity between the movie or story in question and one which she has recently seen or read. Thus conversation develops. All of us have some experience or some anecdote to contribute. But it is the hostess' duty to keep conversation from dying out. When there is a lull, she must come to the rescue. It isn't as difficult as it sounds, for one subject just naturally leads to another.

Question: How is the "double-ring" ceremony handled in a wedding?

Answer: The bride must buy her bridegroom's wedding ring, and he must buy hers. The maid-of-honor may carry the bridegroom's ring or the bride may carry it herself. In the latter event, she may wear it on her own wedding ring finger over her glove, or on her

When you make arrangements with the clergyman, be sure to tell him that yours will be a double ring ceremony that he may let you know when, during the ceremony, you should place the groom's ring on his third finger of his left hand. No Daylight Time For Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 13.—Youngstown will have to struggle along in 1948 with Eastern Standard time, since it will be impossible to put the question of adopting daylight time to a vote in the May primary. Councilman Anthony Flack has requested the city law department to draw up an ordinance putting the issue on the November general election ballot.

Ice Carnival Optimist Topic Thursday Night

At Thursday evening's meeting of the Optimist club, boys' work chairman Dave Clo' us reported on the Ice Carnival which is scheduled for Cascade Park tonight (weather permitting).

The public is advised to travel through the East Side as parking facilities are better in the park. Motorists are warned not to park near the skating course.

All contestants are requested to report to the concession stand by 7:30 p. m. A trophy cup goes to the best act and medals and emblems will go to other winners.

Dr. R. Gilmore reported on the membership drive. Next Thursday the all-star basketball team will be guests of the club. Coaches Bill Douglass and Austin Comenadow will also attend.

"Chuck" Wilson, WKST announcer, was taken into the club at the meeting, and William Fogarty was a special guest. He spoke to the group on ice skating.

Man Held For Armed Assault

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 13.—(INS)—Ralph Swan, 51, was held in the Fayette county jail at Uniontown today charged with assault and battery with intent to kill after allegedly shooting a 13-year-old girl who resented his advances.

State police said Swan shot Geraldine Carter in the legs while she was attending a birthday party for Swan at his home.

The girl told police: "I was sitting on a couch. He was attempting to force his attention on me, and I dashed into another room where he shot me."

Swan was arrested when he visited the girl in a Uniontown hospital.

LETTERS OF THE LAW

SALT LAKE CITY.—(INS)—The Utah motor vehicle division has it all figured out—the easiest letter in the alphabet to see is the letter "X". In preparing license plates—which are used primarily for identification of automobiles, stolen or otherwise—Allan Rogers, director of the motor vehicle division, made a survey of the letters easiest to identify. In his list, K comes after X. C and G are considered bad, because they are easily confused with each other, and with O, M, N and W are not so good.

'MIS-DELIVERED TRUNK' EUGENE, Ore.—(INS)—It doesn't seem possible that a trucking company could lose anything as big as a trunk in only 120 miles. But a University of Oregon co-ed has a stub to prove it. The truckers have checked at 1700 points as far east as Chicago but thus far, no trunk. A frantic search is being made of all fraternity and sorority houses on the Oregon campus in hopes the vanished trunk was "just mis-delivered."

Hot WPIAL Cage Scrambles Continue

Aliquippa-Sharon Tangle; Farrell At Beaver Falls; Wampum-Bessemer In Tests

With New Castle's slightly dazed Hurricane sitting on the sidelines, all the rest of the quints in Sections 3 and 23 will go to the post tonight as the WPIAL cage action roars into the home stretch.

The locals stayed in first place just long enough to find the atmosphere too rarified and abdicated faster than Gromyko leaving a United Nations session. The "Canes" will rest on their 6-3 record while the other Section 3 title-seekers joust each other and jockey for position.

The big game of the night will be at Beaver Falls where the Tigers, sporting an identical record as the locals (6-3) take on Tudor Lewis' resurging Farrell Steelers. The Mercer countians have won five and lost three, and a win over the valleyites would put them right back into the swirl. It will be a battle of outstanding pivots, Eddie Williams of the Tigers, and Farrell's high loop scorer, Johnny Hammond.

Aliquippa can't nap either this evening. They engage Sharon at home, and the Bengals have been one of the two teams to nip them this year, taking a 32-31 squeaker at Sharon in their first meeting. We like the Quips to romp on their home boards and pad their slim lead.

Rounding out the card will be the Ellwood-Ambridge "go" at the latter's gym—a battle of tail-enders with no bearing on the race. The "Bridgers" may at last cop their first league win.

Wampum-Bessemer On Spot
In section 23 things are tied tighter than a sailor's knot, with Wampum and Bessemer deadlocked for the lead with 9-2 slates.

Wampum got their chance Tuesday when Shenango upset the Cementers and made the most of it—lacing East Brook to pull even. Tonight both title contenders will find anything but breeze on the schedule. Bessemer entertains rugged Union, a team that can stand up and punch with the best of them, and this clash of old rivals will no doubt see a packed gym looking on. Coach "Chuck" James green "Scotties" pack the artillery to throw a knockout blow at the Ciccone lads.

Wampum will be at home against Mt. Jackson, a team coach Butler Hennon sincerely fears, and a club

Shenango Pottery, First U. P. Dumped In Turn Of Events In Two Loops

The inevitable upset stalked the gym at the Y.M.C.A. last night, with the First U. P. team of the Church league and the Shenango Pottery five of the C-1 loop the victims.

The Presbyterians fell before the First Baptists, 31-29, suffering the first loss of the season.

The Shenango Pottery team, which had been the favorite to win the C-1 loop, was dumped in the first round by the First Baptists, 31-29.

Hammond Still Pacing Section Three Scorers; Kenny Jones High In 23

Big John Hammond, the Negro center with the coiled spring leap and the flexible wrist snap continues to lead the scorers of Section 3. Farrell's prize tip-off man has sent 127 points singing through the hoops and last Tuesday wrestled the lead back from New Castle's Jimmy Janacek when he banked in 16 against Ambridge.

Janacek was off his game against Aliquippa, but has 118 markers, followed by Don Black of the Hurricane, who has tallied 95. "Silent Sam" Jankovich, Hammond's teammate at Farrell, completes the "big four" with 92.

In Section 23 Kenny Jones of Princeton is burning up the courts with 142 and hit his peak against New Wilmington Tuesday gathering 23. Behind Coach Bill Anderson's lanky star there is a real dog-fight. Bessemer's "Gus" Anderson has 129, Ronny Johns of Shenango, 128, and Wendy Butler of Mt. Jackson, 124. Twelve lads have scored 100 points or better so far.

A list of scorers who have tallied 50 points or better including games of February 10 is shown below:

Saturday night at the Washington High court the Elks have carded the strong General Fireproofing team of Youngstown. In the prelim the Elks Reserves will meet a strong local opponent at 7:15 o'clock.

Ohioans Are Strong

The General Fireproofing team was the latest industrial champs in Ohio last year and have a very fine lineup of stars such as Bob Roper, 6-foot 7-inch former Northwestern star; Birchhoff, Dunleavy, Frank Haus and "Rags" Gennock, former well known local and Pitts star.

Coach Paul Morrison, of the Elks, hopes to have his strongest lineup in tow for the evening as a winner over this Ohio team is keenly sought by every team that they face, quite a feather in the cap of any team.

Titans Trim Bethany 79-65

Bruce Wagner Brilliant With 22 Points As Westminster Rallies To Win

(Special To Central Press)

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 13.—

The Westminster Titans, forced to come from behind a 26 to 8 deficit at the first period, defeated a scrappy Bethany college quintet last night at the Bethany floor, 79 to 65, with Bruce Wagner the outstanding star with 22 points for the Washabaughmen.

Westminster after trailing at the first period badly, played better in the second period as Coach Washabaugh sent in Wagner, Dick Jones and Dick Fuhrer, who seemed to spark the fading Titans. Bethany's lead dwindling to 38 to 27 at halftime. The Titans, led by Wagner, continued to pile them in in the third period and took the lead at the end of the third period 59 to 52, and blasted away at the hoops in the final period for 20 more points.

Play Pitt Saturday
Dembsky had 19 points and McCullough 14 for the victorious Titans. Mewhrter, Martin and Dumbough led the Bisons in tallying.

Saturday Westminster plays Pitt at Farrell and will have a battle on their hands. The game starts at 8:15 o'clock. It was announced today. Quite a large crowd will see the battle, it is indicated.

Westminster's record is 10-10. Bethany's record is 10-10. The game starts at 8:15 o'clock.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

TUCKER HOCKMAN of Walmo, who holds the record for Castle Hills course, a 64 for 18 holes, recently while visiting his son, Oliver, in the army, had the pleasure of playing the tricky Pebble Beach, Calif., course. He turned in a 41-39-80 for the layout. Pebble Beach is the site of the former national amateur tournament. One of the features at the course is a caddying dog who is estimated to have walked 2,000 miles, hauling golf clubs on a small wagon. Sportsmen of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association, and also any unaffiliated person who desires to assist, should be at the courthouse at 1 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, to participate in the distribution of corn for wild life, especially pheasants. According to reports a Mr. Lane of Frew Mill road, has fed 17 pheasants throughout the winter. The sportsmen will hold their regular monthly meeting, Tuesday night, in CIO hall, South Jefferson street. The session will be climaxed with coffee and doughnuts.

Ever fight under an assumed name? Tommy Jones, police lieutenant, and a former fighter did and his opponent, whom he had fought previously, never became the wiser. It appears that Jimmy Dime had matched Danny Dunn, later to become manager of Johnny Risko, with Frankie Dalley of Latrobe. "I previously had fought Dalley when I was a featherweight. Dunn was booked against him, but for some reason, Dime took me to the scene. When I got on the scales, Dalley looked me over and noting I was heavier than Dunn was supposed to be, remarked: 'Gee, Danny you're getting a wee bit heavy, aren't you?' ... Battling Terry, former lightweight, said several days ago he is thinking of starting a school for youths to be taught the art of self defense, when he isn't busy at the UE, where he is employed. Terry was a neat boxer in his day. Sunoco, the former wrestler, says that Jack Biddle won a 10-rounds in Miami. He didn't name Jack's opponent.

CHEMICAL CLOTH KEEPS EYE-GLASSES WINDOWS 'FOG-LESS'

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 13.—(INS)—The DuPont company has announced good news for millions of befogged winter motorists and spectacle-wearing pedestrians.

DuPont scientists have impregnated soft, absorbent cotton cloth with a chemical solution so that wiping will keep "fog" from forming on the inside of car windows, or on eye-glasses when the wearer steps indoors. Tests with safety goggles in factory steam rooms have shown that one wiping with the cloth will keep glass clear for hours.

It is anticipated the cloth will soon be available through stores handling auto supplies, and similar retail outlets.

FUEL 'COLD WAR'
WASHINGTON, D. C.—(INS)—Caught in a pincers between the worst weather in years and a grim fuel shortage, states and cities are getting set for the final phase of winter's own "cold war." The Council of State Governments reports that state and local efforts in the fuel crisis, coupled with federal action, involves both oil conservation and expediting of deliveries to areas hardest hit by cold weather and fuel scarcity.
